NAF Employee Benefits

Non-Appropriated Funds (NAF) 401(k) Savings Plan

A retirement savings plan that allows you to set aside a portion of your salary with special tax advantages to help you plan for the future.

- Contribute between 1–92% of your salary each pay period.
- Your contribution is automatically deducted on a pre-tax basis.
- FSS provides a matching contribution, based on your contribution percentage.
- You can invest in a variety of fund options, each offering different levels of risk and potential reward.
- Taxes on contributions and earnings are deferred until funds are withdrawn.

More detailed information becomes available once you are eligible to participate in the plan.

November is open enrollment season

Current regular NAF employees can enroll, benefits become effective Jan. 2026. For more information, contact NAF HRO.

Retirement Program

Regular NAF employees are eligible to enroll in the United States Air Force NAF retirement, disability and death benefits. These give you, the retired or disabled employee or your eligible survivor a measure of financial security. The current contribution rate is 1% post-tax (subject to change). You become vested after five years of credited service. If you do not enroll when you are first eligible to, you can enroll at any time. More information on the program is available upon becoming eligible to participate.

Group Life & Medical Insurance

If you are a regular category employee, you are eligible to enroll in Group Life carried by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and/or health insurance plan through AETNA (DoD Health Benefits Program). Your health insurance becomes effective the day you sign the enrollment form, whereas you must be employed continuously for one month as a regular employee before your life insurance becomes effective. Your family members may also be eligible for enrollment in the life and health insurance plans. Contact the HRO for more information regarding benefits.
